

The Future of Arab-Iran Relations under International and Regional Vengeful

Mohammed Al-Mogdad¹

Abstract

The research paper will discuss many issues that dealing in current and future of relations between Iran and Arab states, such as the economic, politics and culture Also. The research paper will explore the mains relatives as alimentations of the decisions maker from both side should take it in mind when try to move the relations between Iran and Arab .for example Geographic factor, history, religion, culture, etc. The paper will depend on main hypotheses it say; there is a correlation between the corporation of society culture and developing the political relations between Iran and Arab countries. So the research will go to discuss and analysis the characteracters of how importance of the people having same values and interests can reach more understand each our and plan to look forward for their future in spite of sometime the politics image try from time to another time make the people go far away from the points of reach each of the, but the elite of the society suppose stay keeping the keys to open all doors for solution and having all strategy to make the people understand their interests. The paper also, will cover to explore the main problems still face the relations of Arabs-Irani ,the border .emirate islands, Iraq, unclear program ,interventions. Finally, in general the research paper design to be coming to answer following questions: 1-whats the main factors that make the relationship between Iran-Arab in trusted each other? 2- What is the main problem there still face the relations between Iran-Arab? 3-how the society in Arab and Iran can effect to keep the reaction in safety and proving for better? 4- What is the main power from foreign region? And how the relation between both Arab Iran can go in better in short term. The research paper will use so many bibliographies such as books, articles. and essays and from knowledge of the researcher as I teaching the courses of international relations.

Key words: Theories foreign polices. Political systems, political economy. political culture

¹ Wisdom house institute of political science, Al albayt university, Jordan, mogdad65@yahoo.com